UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
FOREST SERVICE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

This year's Forest Service report shows that the Nation's forests are in a state of general health, but that there are still many areas where the forest is being destroyed. The report also shows that the Nation's forests are being managed in a more scientific and systematic way than ever before.

The report also shows that the Nation's forests are being managed in a more scientific and systematic way than ever before. The report also shows that the Nation's forests are being managed in a more scientific and systematic way than ever before.
